Executive Summary:

The successful delivery of the first Citation Excel Eagle marks a significant milestone for CitationPartners and Yingling Aviation, demonstrating strong market demand for a fully transformed and modernized version of the popular Citation Excel platform. Through an extensive refurbishment and upgrade process, the Citation Excel Eagle combines comprehensive inspections, new systems and components, Garmin G5000 avionics, a redesigned interior, and complete exterior refinishing to create an aircraft that closely resembles a new-production business jet. Market response has been overwhelmingly positive, with all scheduled 2021 delivery positions already under contract and future deliveries planned through the next phase of the program. For buyers evaluating business jets for sale, private jets for sale, or seeking a value-oriented alternative to purchasing a factory-new aircraft, the Citation Excel Eagle represents a compelling blend of modern technology, performance, and long-term support.

Key Takeaways:

- The Citation Excel Eagle transforms existing Citation Excel aircraft through a comprehensive modernization program that includes Garmin G5000 avionics, a new interior, and complete refurbishment.
- All six Citation Excel Eagle aircraft scheduled for delivery in 2021 were placed under contract, demonstrating strong demand within the business aviation market.
- The program combines extensive inspections, new systems, support programs, and factory-level refurbishment to create an ownership experience similar to acquiring a new aircraft.
