

jetAVIVA Team Members Honored with IADA Foundation Grants and Leadership Appointments

October 2025

Link to Article

Executive Summary:

jetAVIVA announced that Michael Barber and Carter Tos received IADA Foundation grants supporting leadership development in business aviation. The announcement highlights jetAVIVA's continued investment in industry leadership, professional growth, and excellence as a trusted private jet broker specializing in private jets for sale and business jets for sale. The company also celebrated CEO Emily Deaton's promotion to Board Chair of IADA's AircraftExchange platform, reinforcing jetAVIVA's leadership position in the global aviation marketplace.

Key Takeaways:

- Michael Barber received a leadership grant and was appointed Vice Chair of IADA's NextGen Committee for 2026.
- Carter Tos received funding to attend the 2026 NBAA Leadership Conference.
- jetAVIVA continues expanding its influence as a private jet expert for aircraft including Gulfstream G550 for sale, Challenger 350 for sale, Citation Mustang for sale, and Phenom 300 for sale.

Quotes:

"It represents an exciting opportunity to continue shaping the next generation of business aviation professionals."

"I look forward to continuing to develop a platform that facilitates collaboration, data exchange, and deal-making for our accredited members."